Endless Possibilities in Poured Acrylic with Arlene Enns!

*Wednesdays, May 9 & 166:30 – 8:30 pmOnly $50 for 2 Sessions*The Steinbach Cultural Arts Centre

304 Second Street, Steinbach

Catch the wave! Poured acrylic is the new trend in creating your own artworks, and the Steinbach Arts Council is pleased to announce that Arlene Enns will be teaching a two-week session on the fundamentals of acrylic pouring! Learn 4 different pouring techniques and work with a variety of colors and tools to create your own artworks!

Arlene Enns

This St. Pierre artist grew up on a small farm in southern Manitoba, the youngest of four children. Art, music, and creativity in general were always encouraged in Arlene's childhood home. One of her fondest memories is sitting at the kitchen table with a new box of Crayolas and a fresh coloring book.

Arlene moved to St Pierre in 1999. Landscapes and flowers remain Arlene's favorites, and though much of her time is occupied running a small restaurant, she still finds time to create. She has won a number of awards in various art shows including a juried art exhibit in Beausejour and the Southeast Open Judged Art Exhibit at the Steinbach Cultural Arts Centre. Arlene loves to try many different mediums are art including resin and acrylic pouring!

A new take on the Paint Party, join us for a more in-depth look at the artistic technique. Spots are limited, and they are filling up quickly! Session fees are only $50! If you want to get involved, register online at www.steinbachartscouncil.ca, or give us a call at 204.346.1077.
