THE BACKYARD THEATRE COMPANY for ages 5 – 17+

Our theatre company features weekly classes, a Christmas recital, and an end-of-year production. There are many rewards in becoming a part of a theatre company such as ours, including increased self confidence and healthy social skills. We encourage concise communication skills and finding new ways to ignite creativity within each participant. Acting encourages group trust and spontaneous expression. Plus, it's just a lot of fun!

Try before you buy – try out any class first at no cost. Take advantage of this offer and bring a friend too!

CLASSES

Acting Out (ages 5-8) All for FUN! Get creative with improvised storytelling and puppet shows. Learn the easy basics of performance – voice projection, memorization, and costuming.

Level 1 – Dramatic Discovery (ages 9-11) Discover the process of preparing for a play: learning your lines, character development, and exploring the stage. Includes storytelling, character building exercises, and improvisation.

Level 2 – The Actor's Studio (ages 10-12) Experienced (mature) students – take your acting experience to the next level! Try new games, challenging scripts, and grow your improvisational skills.

Level 3 – The Audition (ages 12-17) Advanced students can combine silly improvisation with serious studio practice. Includes warm-up exercises, writing, memorization, and more.

NEW! Young Company 17+ Be part of a performing troupe in Steinbach! Community involvement and theatre skill building.

MEET THE DIRECTORS

Jeremy Plett, Artistic Director

Jeremy is an alumnus of BTC, and also participated in the SRSS Drama/Improv program. He has performed in several school and community theatre productions, including a tour across Canada with the SBC drama team and The Princess Bride.

Malcolm Roulette, Assistant Director

Malcolm is from Split Lake, MB. He moved to Steinbach to get involved in local community theatre, such productions as The Princess Bride and Of Mice and Me. This is Malcolm's 3rd year with The Backyard Theatre Company – first as Assistant Director.
